RELIEF ROLL REDUCTIONS ARE SOUGHT

A survey to determine employment conditions and the possibilities of reducing relief rolls by employing more workers in various lines of business, will be undertaken by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the request of the United States Chamber, it was revealed at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the board of directors.

The project will involve obtaining the number of workers now employed in comparison with past periods, together with the employer's reaction to the likelihood that more persons might be employed in the near or distant future. The national chamber believes that by this method it can secure the only accurate picture of present and future employment conditions in the country, since local chambers are in touch with local conditions.

President P. M. Sanford of the chamber will head a committee to compile the information.

JERUSALEM, May 27.—UP.—The British government tonight decided to rush an additional battalion of troops to Jerusalem from Cairo, as guerilla warfare and pillaging were resumed in the Holy Land.

Rioting Arabs burned an orange grove owned by Felix Warburg in the United States. The grove was situated near Jaffa, center of most of the recent trouble in which at least 50 persons have been killed.

IN GUN BATTLE—Arab insurgents and police clashed in a brisk gun battle at Jaffa tonight. Casualties were not announced.

C. A. RICKS LUSES OUT IN BATTLE

SAN LEANDRO, May 27.—UP.—Congressman Albert E. Carter of Oakland, representative from the Sixth Congressional District, was endorsed for reelection to that office today by delegates to the district convention of the Townsend plan organization here.

Carter received the endorsement on the first ballot with 240 votes, against 58 for C. A. "Cappy" Ricks of Martinez.

A group of about 30 delegates from Richmond Township Club No. 1 as well as delegates from the various other Townsend clubs of the city were in attendance at yesterday's convention in San Leandro.

UPHOLD MARGETT

The delegates also voted unanimously to extend a vote of confidence to Edward J. Margett, State Townsend leader.

Margett returned from a northwestern trip today to announce that the strength of the Townsend movement in Oregon was greater than the combined voting strength of all other political parties in the State. He based his announcement on a study of the returns from the recent Oregon primaries in which several candidates supporting the plan were nominated.

One Killed, One Badly Injured In Auto Crash

SANTA ROSA, May 27.—Will Bohinger, 30, of San Francisco, was killed and George Setters, 60, operator of the famous Setters Springs in the Sonoma valley, suffered serious injuries when the car Setters was driving swerved off the highway near here and overturned today.

Bohinger was said to be an employee of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. He, his wife and their two children had been vacationing at the Springs.

Personnel Board Members In Row

SACRAMENTO, May 27.—UP.—E. H. Christian, Oakland, member of the State Personnel Board, said today he did not recognize William Brownrigg as executive officer of the board and therefore believed all his acts were subject to serious legal question.

Christian admitted he was leading a movement to have Brownrigg ousted as he could not find any record to show he had been appointed to his position.

A feud between the two developed when Christian attempted to "liberalize" civil service and Brownrigg and his followers charged that it was nothing but an out and out attempt to return to the spoils system and to do away with civil service entirely.

Cooking School Off To Auspicious Start

The RECORD-HERALD cooking school that started yesterday afternoon at the Richmond clubhouse proved to be the center of a great deal of interest.

Don't miss today's session of the school. I start at 2 p. m. and closes at 4 p. m., early enough so that you can go home and prepare some of these dishes, if you were not fortunate enough to be among

Slight Quake Is Recorded At Lick Station

SAN JOSE, May 27.—UP.—Seismographs at the Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton today record a slight earthquake shock of almost one minute's duration and apparently about 60 miles from the seismographical laboratory.

Dr. H. M. Jeffers of the observatory said the shock was recorded at 11:55 A. M.

It was believed the disturbance might have been a shifting of a fault line of such slight nature that it was not felt except by the sensitive recording mechanism.

GUARD AND WIFE SLAIN BY TRUSTY

ANGOLA PRISON FARM, La. May 27.—UP.—A trusty today invaded the quarters of Nelson J. Himel, captain of prison farm guards, killed Mrs. Himel as she sat in a bathtub, ambushed and killed her husband when he returned home and escaped into the hills.

Authorities identified the killer as Wilfred Lindsey, 25 year old Baton Rouge "bad boy" serving a life term for murder. He had been Himel's yard boy.

HOUNDS ON TRAIL—The murders were not discovered until after 8 P. M. A posse set out in pursuit and reported at 10 P. M. that its bloodhounds had picked up the fugitive's trail.

The guard captain had been connected with the prison for years. His quarters were isolated from those of other prison officials.

KILLED WOMAN—Lindsey apparently killed Mrs. Himel some time during the afternoon. It was not revealed where (Continued on page 4)

O. A. L. IN WAR
ON SIGNING OF BALL PLAYERS

OAKLAND, May 27.—UP—A new drive to keep scouts of organized professional baseball off school baseball lots appeared to be brewing tonight following the signing of Ernest Raymond, 16 year old third baseman at McClymonds high school by the San Francisco Seals Pacific Coast league team.

The youngster is a brother of Bill Raymond, formerly with the Oakland Oaks and now playing in the major leagues.

C. R. Cooley, coach of the McClymonds nine which last year won the Oakland Athletic league title, announced he intends to take action in the Raymond case.

"I don't care so much about losing a player from my team, but I do object that all boys attending school should be permitted to finish," Cooley said.

Oakland educational heads, including Frank Boeck, city superintendent of secondary schools physical education, indicated they would support Cooley in his protest against "raids."

Coach Slip Madigan of St. Mary's College protested signing of Francis Kelleher, his sophomore third baseman, by the New York Yankees recently.

WASHINGTON'S
IS RULED OUT

The Washington State social security act was held unconstitutional today by Superior Judge D. F. Wright of Thurston county.

He overruled a state demurrer to a suit brought by Adolph J. Johnson, Seattle laborer, to prevent collection of one percent of his pay as contribution to an operating fund. Johnson also sought to enjoin State Treasurer Otto A. Case from spending $100,000 appropriated to administer the act of the 1935 legislature.

The state will appeal the case to the Supreme Court. It probably will be heard at the May term, which lasts until July 1.

Judge Wright said he based his decision largely on the minority report of the New York State Supreme Court ruling on a similar act.

The New York law was declared unconstitutional by the majority opinion.

Johnson claimed the social security act violated the state and federal constitutions in 13 places.

The judge's decision held the law invalid because it was contingent on the Wagner-Doughnut bill, which never was passed by Congress. He also held the federal social security act, requiring similar state laws, was a violation of state rights.

RED DICTATOR MAN MOUNTAIN SAN FRANCISCO
IS EXECUTED IS NO MATCH RESIDENTS WIN
FOR MURDERS FOR HAYNES IN BIG SWEEPS

MOSCOW, May 27.—UP—Konstantin Siemenchuk, dictator and terrorist of Wrangel Island who was found guilty last Saturday of murdering Dr. N. A. Wolfson, was executed today along with his accomplices and strong arm man, Startzev.

The former governor of Wrangel Island, an icy piece of land off the Siberian coast, allegedly ordered Wolfson killed when the doctor complained about the administration of the island.

Wolfson died while on a sledge expedition. The governor reported that he died of heart failure. Examination of the doctor's body, however, revealed that he had been shot. His frozen body was placed in a warehouse. Witnesses testified that when Siemenchuk wanted to punish them he placed them in the warehouse with the body.

The prosecution contended that Siemenchuk sent Startzev on the same expedition with Wolfson and ordered his aide to see that the doctor did not come back alive.

Mrs. Wolfson, testifying against Siemenchuk, said he tried to persuade her to commit suicide after her husband's death. She also said her husband left her a letter in which he said if he should die suddenly, Siemenchuk would be to blame.

Andrew Vishinsky, Soviet prosecutor, said that Siemenchuk also was responsible for another murder—that of V. A. Kulenko, member of the Wrangel Island colony, whose death heretofore had been attributed to suicide.

As the web of evidence began to bind Siemenchuk tighter and tighter, he made a last desperate gamble for his life by feigning insanity at his trial and pretending to be a man from Mars.

BROOKLYN, May 27.—UP—LeRoy Haynes, Philadelphia Negro, tonight battered Primo Carnera about the ring until the Italian mountain quit in the ninth round, claiming an injured ankle. This gave Haynes his second technical knockout victory over Primo in three months.

They were scheduled to fight ten rounds, but after 40 seconds of the ninth, Primo, bleeding from the mouth, and staggering helplessly under a merciless bombardment, threw up his arms and limped away from him toward his corner.

Referee Arthur Donovan sprang toward the retreating former heavyweight champion and tried to hold him in the ring asking what was the matter. Primo merely pointed to his left ankle.

Dr. George B. Reitz, a physician at the ring-side, examined Primo's ankle and reported that he could find no broken bone or discoloration.

Although Haynes required longer to make Primo quit tonight than he did in their first meeting at Philadelphia in March, he had the big fellow on the verge of a knockout during most of the bout.

Jews To Purchase
Brazilian Port

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 27.—UP—Purchase of part of Rio Grande do Sul State to establish a Jewish Republic under protection of Brazil was proposed today in a letter to President Getulio Vargas from Morris Melvin Wagner of California. Wagner said a group of Jews was ready to make the purchase and that in return for protection a treaty would be signed with Brazil guaranteeing this country armed assistance in event of war.

YANKEES WIN OVER BOSTON
IN 11 INNINGS

NEW YORK, May 27.—UP—The New York Yankees took a better grip on first place in the American League today by nosing out the challenging Boston Red Sox, 9 to 5 in 11 innings.

Red Rolfe's single in the 11th scoring Crosetti from second dropped the Sox a game and one half behind the Yankees. Monte Pearson, who relieved Bump Hadley, was the winning pitcher.

The third place Detroit Tigers put on a three-run scoring burst in the fourth inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 3 to 2.

Cleveland's Indians clubbed St. Louis Browns pitchers freely for a 12 to 2 triumph and moved back into fourth place. The game was featured by Oral Hildebran's five-hit hurling.

Washington's game with Philadelphia was postponed because of rain and will be played in a doubleheader tomorrow.

The National League New York Giants pulled into a first place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals by getting a 5 to 4 decision over the Brooklyn Dodgers as the Cards lost to the Pirates, 11 to 2.

The Dodger-Giant game was a weird affair with the winning run being forced home by a base on balls in the 12th by Fred Frankhouse.

The Pirates got partial revenge for their twin licking yesterday by hammering Wild Bill Hallahan and Ryba for 15 hits to take an 11 to 2 decision.

Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Philadelphia Phillies went in to pinch hit for Gomez in the eighth and slammed a double which cleared the loaded bases for a 5 to 2 win over the Boston Bees.

The Chicago Cubs dropped back into a fourth place tie with the Cincinnati Reds by kicking away today's contest with the Reds, 5 to 3.

Air Corps Will Hold Maneuvers
For Bridge Fair

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—UP—John H. Bruce, San Francisco salesman who held a $150,000 ticket on Mahmood in the Epsom Downs Derby, had only $20,000 left when he finished subtracting tonight—and taxes still were to be taken out.

Bruce explained that three other persons shared in the winning ticket, one of the several held by Americans in the Irish hospitals sweepstakes.

Before the race, they sold a half share in the ticket to the sweepstakes organization.

That left only $80,000 coming to the San Francisco quartet.

The $80,000 was to be split four ways, each person getting $20,000. United States and British taxes will be deducted from that total, leaving each person somewhere between $10,000 and $15,000.

There was some dispute as to who will share in the division. Bruce said he used the name "Jack and Jill" on the ticket and that Jill was his wife. William Leithe, a fellow salesman, said the name was "Bill" and it referred to him. Bruce denied the claim, saying "the only ones in with me were my wife and two sisters-in-law."

"Whatever we get, after taxes are deducted, will be velvet," he remarked before beginning plans for a trip to the East to collect the winnings and "see the country."

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, May 27.—Clark Gable came out of an affectionate clinch with Jeanette MacDonald and looked serious.

"People," he said—speaking for the public—"are fed up with moving picture kissing."

Coming from the same lips that have reduced film femmes to extreme flexibility, that man-bites-dog remark commanded immediate attention.

"I mean lingering embraces and prolonged osculation are no longer necessary," Gable explained.

"Motion picture audiences have progressed in thought and appreciation with the advance of pictures from the silent one-reelers of earlier days to the elaborate screen masterpieces of today," he said. "The modern audience is more educated to screen stories, more sophisticated."

"Picture-goers do not want performances in which the actor 'mugs' all over the screen. They demand that actors must not overact, but must be natural in their film characterizations."

"Audiences dislike the long clinches and kisses that formerly were filmed to the timing of a stop-watch. They prefer clever, intelligent dialogue spoken by intelligent characters in believable situations pertinent to the telling of the screen story."

Kenneth MacGowan, an associate producer, agrees with Gable and declares the tendency to minimize love interest in many screen stories is proof that motion pictures are no longer in their infancy.

"What is happening to the movies now is an exact parallel of the process through which the stage passed," he says.

"It was not until the matinee idol and the old homestead and love melodramas gave way to vital subjects and great character acting that the stage really became of age."

MacGowan says most producers are not merely theorizing when they agree that it is not necessary to adhere to romance entirely for story material.

Leading box office successes of the past several years, including "The Informer," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "All Quiet on the Western Front," were offered as evidence by MacGowan.

best judgment and conscience dictates. We have had too many rubber stamps in public places. We do not want that type to represent us. Although we may not always agree with our representative in his decisions, we do not pick any quarrel with the man who, acts according to his honest convictions, for we know that he is not swayed in his action by any ulterior motive or hidden influence.

REAL INDEPENDENCE

That is one of the many things I personally like about Tony DeLap. He is an independent cuss and he does not care a finker's whoop which is the popular side of a question. If he believes a certain way he votes that way, and that is all there is to it. I had occasion to observe him in Sacramento during the regular session of the legislature, and many times I have witnessed him making a lone battle for a cause he believed to right, even with crucifixion staring him in the face. I distinctly recall that on one measure his voice was the only one raised in opposition and his vote the only one recorded against it. It was an administration bill, by the way, and he risked dire punishment for her temerity in opposing the powers that be. Perhaps that incident is the reason that when it came to the distribution of political pie, no slice was handed in his direction, according to what I have been told from well informed sources.

NO "YES" MAN

It is considered good politics to bow the pregnant knee, in fact is considered one of the rules of the game, but DeLap does not play that way, and being rather contrary-minded myself, it excites my admiration. Personally I do not want a man always to agree with me, either in political, social or business matters. These "yes" guys give me a pain in the neck and also in other portions of my anatomy. No one ever knows how they stand, for they invariably yes everybody for the sake of a few votes or personal aggrandizement.

Independence of thought and action are commendable traits and DeLap possesses both of those outstanding and admirable attributes of character. Naturally they provoke criticism and opposition and I presume DeLap will get his full share of both in the coming campaign.

On the other hand his advocacy of certain measures should rally strong support to his candidacy.

GRADES OF BEEF COMPARED

By beef is meant the flesh of mature cattle and when the term is used by itself it is generally taken to mean steer beef. Undoubtedly, steer beef is one of the most important foods on the modern table and this kind of meat is an excellent protein, providing the material needed for building muscle; at the same time providing a good source of vitamin B, as well as the food iron needed to build healthy red blood cells.

While cow beef is also sold, it is not considered to be quite as good as steer meat. Cows are raised for reproductive purposes or for milk. Profitable reproduction ends when the cow is around 6 years old, after which she is quickly fattened and sold for meat. This speedy fattening puts the fat on the outside and does not distribute it properly through the tissues.

Cow beef contains about 75 per cent. of nourishing tissue and about 25 per cent. bone, whereas the steer beef animal is composed of about 85 per cent. nourishing tissue and only 15 per cent. of bone.

Steers are raised for just one purpose and that is to develop good beef meat, often being fed corn or some other special food; whereas the cow meat is sold after fattening cows which no longer give a sufficient amount of milk. The steer is usually a young animal but the cow is comparatively older, having been a commercial milk producer for several years. The meat from cows is therefore not as good for food as it is when the animal is raised solely for the purpose of furnishing the best kind of meat.

Steer meat is not only desirable from the standpoint of having a finer flavor but it is also, in the end, the cheapest meat as its food value in proportion to its weight is higher than cow meat. The cow meat does not taste as well, being more insipid. The steer meat is more solid and there is less waste because of the large amount of nourishing protein, and the firmness of the flesh. If you are looking for food value, then buy the steer meat rather than cow meat.

Steer meat of the first quality will show plenty of lean meat in proportion to the fat. It will be tender, the fat inserted between the muscle fibers will show as fine streaks of white, the flesh will be firm, the lean meat part will have a rich redness of color, and the fat will be firm and sound, and either clear white or yellow. Those are the signs by which you may tell a piece of steer beef of good quality. Proper ageing of the meat will add to its tenderness.

The protein of meat forms about 20 per cent. of the cut and certainly, this form of protein is very easily digested. The ease of digestion, the satisfying flavor, and the excellent quality of beef to be obtained in the average butcher shop, all help to explain why meat is the favored food of so many people.

After you have purchased a good steak of steer meat, do not spoil it by frying but learn to cook it under the broiler, or by the process known as "Pan Broiling."

When, asking for meat, demand the finest grade of steer beef and then you will be sure of getting the best meat available.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Preventing Dry Skin)

Question: Mrs. Jack D. states: "I remember reading in one of your articles a warning that those with thin, sensitive skins should not use an excessive amount of soap; however, I disregarded the warning and went right on taking a hot bath every day, using soap abundantly. Now, every time I take a bath, my skin feels dry and itchy. The itchy sensation is so strong that it makes me uncomfortable for twenty minutes after I get out of the tub. My friend suggests that I use cold cream or olive oil to rub into the skin but I am undecided as to whether this might clog up the pores. Should I bathe less frequently in order to allow an accumulation of the natural oil? Should I use friction?"

Answer: The application of oil to a dry skin will tend to soften it and make it more flexible and less likely to itch. The marked itching which you describe is fairly common and is known as "bath pruritus." There is no reason to suppose that the application of an oil such as olive oil would cause the pores to clog and in fact, you would benefit by using a substance of this nature. You may use cold cream if you prefer. In all likelihood, you will find the skin condition will improve if, when bathing you use soap as sparingly as possible. Very hot baths, prolonged immersion and the use of a great deal of soap should be avoided until the skin has returned to its normal oil. Perhaps you have been using too strong a soap—if so, a mild, pure soap will be helpful. While you are rubbing the oil into the skin, you will probably use all the friction necessary. Sometimes, when the skin is markedly dry, the addition of larger amounts of butter, avocados, olives and similar foods to the diet, will seem to be of benefit. You will find that exposure of the skin to sunlight and fresh air will help give it a better tone, although since the skin is thin and delicate, over-exposure must be avoided as your skin will probably burn very easily.

PAY PATIENTS ARE ELIGIBLE FOR HOSPITAL

MARTINEZ, May 27.—In an opinion asked by Oscar F. Olsson, superintendent of the county hospital, District Attorney Francis P. Healey held today that the institution is authorized to make limited acceptance of part pay patients. The decision is viewed as of wide importance in view of Farm Bureau efforts to qualify for the November ballot a proposal that would permit county hospitals in the state to accept patients able to make partial payment.

The opinion, prepared by Deputy District Attorney Harold Jacoby, is based largely on a Kern county case, recently decided, in which restrictions were placed on part pay patient acceptance.

CITES DISTINCTION
"There is a distinction as between the two counties, however," Jacoby said. "In Kern county the hospital was operated as a socialized service. The Contra Costa hospital is operated on the charity plan. There are two code sections covering county hospital operation."

The opinion holds that part pay patient acceptance is limited by the determination of an "indigent" as set forth by the law and court decisions.

ACCEPTANCE LIMITED
The opinion says in part: "You may accept payment from those who can contribute something towards their care but who have not sufficient means to pay for care in a private hospital but you cannot accept into the hospital those who have sufficient means for such care, except in cases of emergency or accident."

The opinion says that the Kern county decision holds that hospitals "cannot give hospitalization to full pay patients, that is, to people able to pay for care in a private hospital."

dately whether she had been shot or clubbed. Her body was left lying in the half-filled tub pending a coroner's investigation.

Alcide Guillory, the Himel's cook, said he went to the house shortly before supper time and found Lindsey there. Lindsey told him to keep quiet, that Mrs. Himel was sleeping. A few minutes later, Himel returned from making his rounds of the prison camp. He was driving his automobile, which he parked in the side yard before entering the house.

FORCED INTO CAR
Guillory said he heard shots, ran in and found Captain Himel dead.

"Lindsey turned the gun on me and told me to keep quiet," the cook said. "He put Captain Himel's pistol in his pocket and then grabbed a high-powered rifle. He forced me to go outside and get into the car. He took the wheel and we drove off. He headed north across the Mississippi line. A short way past the camp railroad station he stopped the car and put me out."

High School Officers Named

New officers of the Richmond high school student body were elected yesterday at the school.

Russell Leist was named president, John O'Donohue vice-president, Annabelle Tarr, secretary.

DEFIES INDIGENT

The decision characterizes as an indigent a person, with proper residential requirements, "who has insufficient means to pay for his maintenance in a private hospital after providing for those who legally claim his support."

"It is, therefore, clear that a person need not be a pauper in order to be admitted to a county hospital," the district attorney's opinion declares.

Verbatim, it was stated, that the county could make recovery from any person deemed able to make partial payment for treatment. The opinion also points out that the county hospital may accept emergency patients and if investigation subsequently shows ability to pay for treatment recovery can be made.

LEGION QUIZ BY G-MEN TO BE SOUGHT

DETROIT, May 27.—UP—Detroit officials, bewildered by the size and spread of the Black Legion, asked G-men tonight to invoke the "Linbergt law" to help them suppress a reign of error stretching into 15 states.

Duncan C. McCrea, Wayne county prosecutor, sent a telegram to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings in Washington, saying he now had evidence that the Legion's activities were too far-flung for local police to deal with.

12 MORE ARRESTS
Tonight six members of the Detroit homicide squad set out under orders to bring in 12 additional persons suspected of being implicated in the slaying of Charles Foote—a local affair—but a crime that gave authorities their first glimpse into the secrets of the Ku Klux Klan of the north.

McCrea, fighting local charges that he himself was a member of the Black Legion, said evidence assembled today indicated that the hooded organization carried the terror of its skull and crossbones insignia into New York and Chicago.

WIDE OPERATIONS
"I know definitely," McCrea wired Cummings, "that the Black Legion is now operating in 15 or 18 states. I know that it is very active in the cities of New York and Chicago. Of course, I am unable to investigate this evidence, and for that reason I have sought the aid of the Department of Justice. I have reason to believe that the activities of the Legion have included the hauling of bodies across State boundary lines which is a federal offense. Many serious crimes have been committed in states other than Michigan."

The local office of the Department of Justice refused comment on McCrea's request, explaining that no word had been received from Washington. Until such orders arrive, it was said, no action can be taken.

Nevada Minor Marriages Are Held As Valid

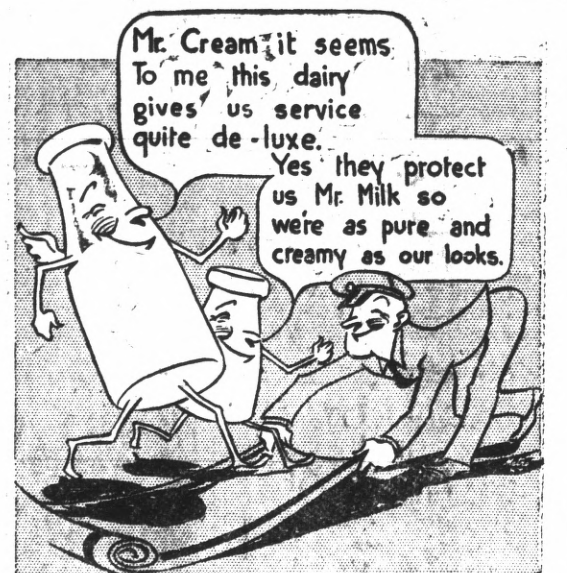

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—UP—In a decision of far-reaching consequence the California Supreme court today affirmed the legality of the marriages of California minors in states where such marriages are valid.

The decision applied especially to those marriages performed in Nevada, to which state many Californians go because of the liberality of the laws.

The contest on which the ruling was based involved Mrs. Neola McDonald, former College of Pacific student and James McDonald III, Hillsborough, a grandson of the James McDonald associated with John D. Rockefeller in the development of oil fields in Wyoming and other western states.

Affirming the decision of the late Superior Judge Franklin Swart of San Mateo county and a district appellate court, the state's highest court by a four to two vote denied young McDonald, said to have inherited $1,000,000 from his grandfather, an annulment of his marriage to the young college girl, mother of his two-year old daughter.

Wives Are Baking With Mayonnaise

Many housewives have found baking with mayonnaise so quick, so convenient that they're placing Ide's mayonnaise at the top of their list of 'things to take to camp.'

It takes little space to carry an ample supply of Ide's mayonnaise to make fluffy biscuits and quick hot cakes, as well as cool salads, all during even a long vacation. The new, creamier Ide's mayonnaise right out of the same jar makes better salads than ever. And it cuts the work of cooking in half to use Ide's instead of the usual shortening, milk, butter, or eggs. There's no difficult creaming of dry ingredients and the uniform texture of Ide's "insures" perfect results every time.

Hot cakes and fluffy biscuits are no trouble at all made this new easy way—and food experts have found they're easier to digest, too. This is because Ide's is free from "sterilized" that tallowy fat which makes rich foods hard for some people to assimilate. In addition to saving space and weight in packing, campers find it cheaper to use Ide's. In fact, it takes only half as much Ide's mayonnaise as the usual shortening.

Here are two simple, economical recipes for campers:

IDE'S FLUFFY BISCUITS

3 tbsp. Ide's Mayonnaise.
2 cups flour.
4 tsp. baking powder.
2/3 tsp. salt.
2-3 tsp. sugar.
1/2 cup water (approx.)

Mix the mayonnaise with the sifted dry ingredients. Add the water, a little at a time, to make a soft dough. Place on a floured board and pat lightly into a sheet about one-half inch in thickness. Cut into rounds and bake on a greased baking sheet or pan in hot oven (450 deg.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

LIGHTNING QUICK HOT CAKES

4 tbsp. Ide's Mayonnaise.
1 1/3 cups water or milk.
2 cups flour.
3 tsp. baking powder.
1 tsp. sugar.
Pinch of soda.

Sift together the dry ingredients and add mayonnaise and water or milk alternately. Stir until smooth. Fry on hot griddle.

Ide-cooked foods are being featured at the Record-Herald cooking school this week.

CHURCH GROUP DINNER MEET, PROGRAM HELD

With the Junior Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society in charge the members of the First Christian church last night enjoyed a pot-luck supper and a social at the church parlors.

A program was presented during the evening. Dario Vallegra played accordion selections; Miss Verna Miller presented a group of marionettes; John Temby and Dario Vallegra played an accordion and trumpet duet; Temby played a solo, accompanied by Ronald Winder.

Members having birthdays in May exchanged gifts.

Announcement was made that the Organized Women will hold a benevolent day meeting with Mrs. Grace Williams today. Members will meet at the church at 10:45. A pot-luck luncheon will be served and the afternoon will be spent in sewing.

BIRTHDAY OF OLIVE NOYES CELEBRATED

Those present were: Virginia Wynn, Jimmy Wynn, Mildred Davis

—the latest in good FOOD!

Color certainly does make this new macaroni look more appetizing. But that is only a part of it. The salmon red, pastel green, and deep cream colors are not artificial — they come solely from blending ten garden vegetables, non-cooked, with macaroni.

The appearance of Vegeroni (Vegetables and Macaroni) is an indication of its vegetable content. Proof lies in the tasting. Fine flavor and rich nourishment reach their peak. The active alkaline reaction assured is a boon to those seeking weight-control and who have heretofore avoided ordinary macaroni.

VEGERONI not only sparkles with appetite appeal but it is rich in all the vitamins and all the minerals of the ten vegetables as well. It is the latest thing in good food — something the family will like often. Something good, moderate in cost, and as easy to prepare as ordinary macaroni.

Decide now to serve Vegeroni at your next meal. When you see your grocer be sure to insist on the original and genuine Vegeroni, the only vegetable macaroni.

A leading expert in meal preparation and planning gives a series of fascinating demonstrations of cookery. She knows how to get the most out of the modern gas range with its insulated oven and thermostat heat control, that make baking and roasting an exact science. Learn something new—something different in the way of delectable frozen salads and desserts that can be made with effortless ease in the electric refrigerator. The electric refrigerator, in addition to saving money by preventing waste from food spoilage, can help prepare delicacies for you that would be expensive if you did not make them yourself.

Attend these cooking sessions. Bring your friends. There is no admission charge, and nothing is offered for sale.

Representative Martin Dies of Texas loves to whip each other reason for Dies' caution is this: He had just concluded a telephone wire-cracking session with Pittsburgh's witty Representative Harry Ellenbogen when his telephone rang again. Dies' secretary informed him that the White House was calling.

"Is this Congressman Dies?" asked a faintly familiar voice.

"Yes," replied Dies, thinking he recognized Ellenbogen trying to disguise his voice.

"Well, Congressman, this is President Roosevelt. . . ."

"Oh, yeah," broke in Dies. "Well, Mr. President, this is the King of England."

"No, ya, big boy!"

A roar of unmistakably Rooseveltian laughter greeted this sally.

...Martin, the President said, "It looks like somebody has been eating you." "Yeah, I guess they have," Dies answered sheepishly.

CHAPTER XXXV

THE cold, hard butt of a gun caught Kirby on the side of the jaw, and he sank to the floor. Stunned, he felt pry his hands going through his pockets. The .22 revolver was yanked roughly out, then his fingers— the map, the copy— had made, the translation— everything.

Weakly he struggled, tried to stop the pillaging. "Don't touch my Kirby," a voice growled gutturally. "Be quiet. Let the Portland police handle the case. Otherwise, Jane Hall will be next."

The hands stopped prying. A moment later Kirby dazedly realized that he was alone. A cool breeze touched his skin. He struggled to his feet, saw that the French doors to the terrace were open. He staggered out onto the terrace. He saw a sign of his assailant. He returned to the room and flicked on the lights.

He saw Jane's gun on the floor. His attacker had evidently dropped it in the haste of flight. Kirby picked it up. He broke it. It was a dud.

AT THAT instant, a rising crescendo of piercing shriers rent the night. He jumped the window grimly and looked at his watch. Five minutes of five. Jane was right on time.

The screams continued, becoming louder as Jane dashed into the hall. Kirby leaned against the door and listened.

He heard Dr. Straater's voice: "Good heavens! What is it?"

"That was Kirby! He beat Jane very sharply. Th-the stairs! He tried to kill me—escaped down the stairs!"

Horrid ejaculations sounded up and down the hall.

Satisfied, Kirby crossed the terrace and went out onto the terrace again. He made his way to the French doors leading into Audrey's room, which was ablaze with light.

He peered through the curtains and saw that the room was deserted. He unlocked the doors and stole in. He went quickly to the bureau, and began a swift ransacking of every drawer.

In the one next to the top, he discovered a large white envelope. Feverishly, he ripped it open and examined the contents.

"I thought so!" he exclaimed.

aloud, and stuffed his find into his pocket.

Then, going to the door, he opened it and stepped nonchalantly into the hall.

AUDREY, pale and disheveled, saw him, gasped and pointed. Madame LeRoux muttered, "Mon Dieu!"

Dr. Strauter was bending over the seemingly unconscious Jarrigan on the floor, and the constable stood in front of his door.

With excitement his eyes fixed on Kirby's. Dr. Toler was at the top of the staircase, looking down.

"Come on," he called. "I'm waiting for you. Otherwise I'll be coming up the stairs."

"There's no one down there!" he cried.

Kirby took out the .22 gun and held it in his hand.

"That's enough, Jane," he said. "It's all over."

Jane opened her eyes, sat up and smiled implacably at Dr. Strauss.

"What was this?" the doctor faltered.

"A trick!" Dr. Toler snapped angrily.

"Yes," said Kirby. "A trick." Castian's eyes were alight with anticipation. "Who is it, Kirby?" he asked.

face. Who is it?"

Kirby did not reply. His eyes swept the circle of staring faces who to rest on one of them.

"Who is it?" Castian asked again.

KIRBY pointed his finger at one of the group.

"You," he said evenly. "You're the rascal I've found the evidence I needed."

"Bruce! Look out!" screamed Jane.

But Kirby needed no warning. On the instant of her scream, he had fired the shot reverberating through the hall. There was a crash of pain, and a pistol clattered to the floor. It was a .32 with a

"The silence!" said Jane, and quickly picked it up.
From inside Castian's room, the frightened voice of his wife called out, "Bob! Bob! What's happened?"
Castian opened the door and tucked his head in.
"It's all right, Adele," he said.
"What was that shot?" she cried. "Is anyone?"
"No," said Castian. "No one's hurt. Kirby just caught the murderer!"

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of gum teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance. But science has found that the regular use of Listerine will offset offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

FORGERY OF BONDS LAID TO OFFICIAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 27.—UP—Frank R. Biddow who rose from bell boy in an Omaha hotel to head a million dollar real estate and banking chain business was accused today of engineering a $101,000 forged bond plot in which 20 other persons were involved.

Along with Biddow, two Sioux City, Ia., deputy sheriffs and an attorney of the Iowa city were accused in indictments returned by a federal grand jury here.

ARRESTS MADE
Federal agents in Sioux City were reported to have arrested several of the accused. Biddow is a prisoner in the government hospital for defectives at Springfield, Mo.

The bonds were copies of an Omaha municipal bond which Biddow had purchased, according to L. A. Johnson, postal inspector. Johnson reported the recovery of all the forged securities.

BONDS WERE SOLD
It was white Biddow was being held in the Springfield prison in connection with the failure of his banking chain in South Dakota that he directed the disposal of five of the bonds in Houston, Tex.

His letters to Freeman Albee and Herbert Hild, former fellow prison mates, provided postal inspectors with the lead which resulted in the indictments. Albee and Lieb were arrested in Houston last year after they sought to sell the forged bonds.

LETTERS FOUND
Authorities found letters to them from Biddow and Louis Ross, Biddow's cell mate, and began the year-long investigation which resulted in today's arrests.

Richard K. Phelps, assistant district attorney, said that Biddow conceived the forged bond plot while recovering from automobile injuries and at a time when he sought to save his control of 18 South Dakota banks which were being squeezed by the depression.

"Not only is Anglo-Italian rapprochement desirable, but it is necessary," Il Duce was quoted as saying.

Mussolini reiterated, however, that League of Nations sanctions against Italy continue to stand in the path of any agreement.

U. C. STUDENT WINS BATTLE WITH LEGION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—UP—

Aubrey Grossman, University of California law school graduate, won his battle with the subversive activities committee of the American Legion today when it was announced he would be admitted to the bar to practice law in California tomorrow.

Harper L. Knowles, chairman of the Legion committee, had opposed Grossman, contending the youth was active in demonstrations and Communist affairs during his years in college and that if he took any oath to support the constitution and State laws he would do so with his "tongue in his cheek."

Grossman retorted that he admitted being pro-labor and liberal but that the Legion committee was un-American.

Numerous character witnesses appeared prepared to testify as to the moral character of the student and the committee said it had decided not to go ahead with any charges.
